

Excerpt of There's A Dragon In The Classroom

There's a dragon in the classroom:

its body is a box,
its head's a plastic waste-bin,
its eyes are broken clocks,

'Oh, what a lovely dragon,'
our teacher smiled and said
'You are a pretty dragon,'
She laughed and stroked its head.

By Charles Thomson

Anya
Holland House School
Y3/Y4

Excerpt of There's A Dragon In The Classroom

There's a dragon in the classroom:

its body is a box,

its head's a plastic waste-bin,

its eyes are broken clocks,

'Oh, what a lovely dragon,'

our teacher smiled and said

'You are a pretty dragon,'

she laughed and stroked its head.

By Charles Thomson

Claudia.
Brackenfield School
Year 3-4

Excerpt of There's A Dragon In The Classroom.

There's a dragon in the classroom:

its body is a box,

its head's a plastic waste-bin,

its eyes are broken clocks,

'Oh, what a lovely dragon,

Our teacher smiled and said

'You are a pretty dragon,'

She laughed and stroked its head.

By Charles Thomson.

Miya

Holland House

Year 3-4

Leah Y4

There's a Dragon in the classroom:

its body is a box,

its head's a plastic waste-bin,

its eyes are broken clocks,

'Oh, what a lovely dragon,'

our teacher smiled and said

'You are a pretty dragon,'

She laughed and stroked its head

By Charles Thomson

Leah

Westbrook Hay School

Category: 3-4

Excerpt of There's A Dragon In The Classroom

There's a dragon in the classroom:

its body is a box,
its head's a plastic waste-bin,
its eyes are broken clocks,

'Oh, what a lovely dragon,
our teacher smiled and said
'You are a pretty dragon,
she laughed and stroked its head.'

By Charles Thomson

Ophelia
The Gower School
Years 3-4

There's A Dragon In The classroom

There's a dragon in the classroom:

its body is a box,

its head's a plastic waste-bin,

its eyes are broken clocks,

'Oh, what a lovely dragon,'

our teacher smiled and said

'You are a pretty dragon,' she laughed

and stroked its head.

By Charles Thomson