INTRODUCTION TO THE COMPETITION

The ISA National Art Competition takes place annually, inviting participation from all pupils at ISA schools. It is an excellent platform for schools to showcase their students' artistic talents and for teachers to share innovative practice and ideas. The competition is held in two stages – the Area Art Competitions and the National Final.

Before entering, carefully read this handbook and refer the checklist provided at the end.

At ISA, we are committed to making our opportunities accessible, we encourage applications from all pupils, including those with learning difficulties or disabilities.

Alternative formats of these guidelines are available on request. Please notify us at the earliest opportunity so we can provide the document accordingly, if required.

1

Qualifications at the Area Art Competition

The Area art competitions will take place in person and will be organised by the ISA Area Art Coordinators during either summer or autumn term. Most areas combine the art competition with a Headteacher's meeting, some areas will organise staff inset training whilst the Art is being judged.

Please note, this is not an online competition, schools must bring each artwork to the events.

All ISA member schools are encouraged to submit work for the first stage of the competition. Artworks that secure first place in the regional competitions will automatically go through to the National Final.

2

The National Finals

The National Finals, second stage of the competition, will coincide with the ISA Autumn Study Conference on 14-15 November 2024 at the Chesford Grange Hotel, Kenilworth.

All winning entries from the seven ISA regions must be sent to the National Competition and will be judged by an independent adjudicator.

AREA COMPETITIONS

ISA Members (Headteachers) will receive information about the competition to be shared with their Art teachers. For additional details, please contact your Area Art Coordinator. Entries submitted to the regional competitions must adhere to the rules and guidelines outlined in this national handbook.

The winning pieces from the regional competitions must be sent to the National Final at the Chesford Grange Hotel, Kenilworth no later than 11am on 14 November. Practical arrangements for the area competitions are determined locally.

It is important to note that the area competitions are organised by Headteachers and/or art staff who have generously volunteered their time.

COMPETITION RULES

Our competition allows a broad range of entries, instead of specifying subjects for each category, providing teachers with the freedom to choose the artwork they submit. However, specific criteria must be met for each class, meaning that not every piece of art created in school can be entered. Please carefully read this handbook before submitting your entry.

GENERAL

- At Regional and National level, the judge's decision is final, and no discussion may be entertained regarding the selection of winners.
- Only individual pieces are acceptable for submission which includes photographs and group work. Co-mounted multiples artworks are not allowed. (Group items should reflect collaborative work on a single piece, not a group of individual pieces.)
- All winners from the Area Competitions must be sent to the National Final. This is a condition of entry to the area competition. Schools are responsible for making the necessary arrangements.
- Art Staff must confirm that all work submitted is the student's own. Any staff input, including technician assistance, must be declared on a sheet attached to the piece, and on the online entry form.
- Submitted work should be submitted for the age category applicable when the work was created.
- Works should not have been previously submitted to the ISA Art Competition. The work should have been produced within 18 months before the National Finals Exhibition (November 2024), by a student currently attending or who attended the school during that time. Artwork submitted to a previous ISA competition will be disqualified.
- Display boards will be provided by ISA. It is the schools' responsibility to ensure that each piece can be displayed with the correct mounting or hanging mechanism provided (with instructions if necessary).
- Two-dimensional work must be prepared for display with Velcro at the back and should not be framed.
- Three-dimensional work must sit securely on a floor or table and schools must provide all the display materials (e.g. mannequin/acrylic stand). Please note that the national exhibition is held in a hotel conference room: items cannot be hung from the ceiling or wall.
- Actual pieces of artwork (not photographs) must be submitted in all competition categories at regional and national levels. Photographs are only eligible in the photography classes.

- It is very important to retain artwork intended for exhibition in the Autumn Term; and ensure it is not taken home by pupils at the end of the Summer Term.
- Joint winners are not allowed.
- Each artwork can only be entered for one category at the National Final.
- Schools should carefully read the definitions of the class categories carefully and ensure that items are entered into the correct category and age group. If work is submitted to the wrong category, the competition organiser is authorised to transfer the work to the more suitable category or disqualify it, if it does not meet the guidance given in this handbook.

Area Competitions

- Entries must be submitted via the entry forms on the ISA website <https://www.isaschools.org.uk/arts/art/art-competition> . Include the full name of your school on all entry forms.
- Most areas allow only one entry per school per category (except the South West and London West areas, which allow three entries maximum). If you are considering multiple entries, we encourage schools to run internal competitions and choose the best piece for submission.
- Certificates and prizes for the Area Competitions are at the discretion of each area.
- If your artwork wins first place in any category, ensure you retain it to send to the National Final.

National Finals

- All artworks awarded first place at the regional competitions must be brought to the National Final.
- In addition, a photo of each artwork will be required from finalists before the event. It is very important to submit a good quality photo as it will be used for the virtual art gallery and for the ISA art brochure. Please submit only one photo per artwork.

Delivery

- Winning schools will receive details for sending work to the National Final by ISA HQ. Schools do not need to attend the final exhibition but must ensure entries reach the conference in time for display. ISA takes no responsibility for lost or damaged work.
- Schools are responsible for transporting artwork to and from the National Competition. ISA HQ and the Area Art Coordinator must be informed but cannot take responsibility for any items left in the care of the venue.

- ISA HQ must be aware in advance of any heavy / large piece of artwork with photos and details (2D or 3D). Large piece sent by courier must be delivered the day before.
- Competitors must ensure that awards labels from the area competitions are removed from the artwork before the finals to avoid confusion during the adjudication.
- ISA HQ won't take responsibility for undelivered artwork to the finals and cannot advise schools on the day if their artwork is missing.

Collection

- Schools must ensure their pieces are collected by the end of the conference. ISA takes no responsibility for lost or damaged artwork.
- ISA HQ must be informed one week in advance regarding collection arrangements.
- ISA HQ cannot print return labels – these MUST be sent with the artwork, and ISA must be informed of this in advance. Return labels must be from a courier company with a bar code.
- If the artwork is collected by a courier, ensure the driver has the relevant information for collection: Include the name of school and add your name and email address as the prior contact for the courier, not ISA's contact details.
- All uncollected artwork, with or without packaging will be left at the venue. ISA cannot guarantee that the venue will be able to keep them.
- Every artwork MUST be collected on the TUESDAY at the end of the conference as there is no guarantee the venue has space to store artworks.
